“ I simply cannot imagine losing one of my children, I know that it's left a hole in y'all's soul that can never be filled. But at least you know he's in the comforting arms of Jesus and none of the struggles he had to go through on this earth can interrupt the peace he has now. I love you all and will pray for your hearts to heal. love

“ Brandon my son. I wish we could turn back the clock to a better time we once both knew and loved. I remember you bouncing around with that pure golden blonde hair without a care in the world. Neither one of us worried about tomorrow because we already knew we would be there when the sun came up. We never worried that perhaps one of us wouldn't. Now that has changed little buddy you've left me here alone to figure out what to do next. I remember you're popop telling you that it didn't matter who said what but if wanted it he would make sure you had. I tried to follow suit , but I fell short. I am going to have a terribly hard time dealing with loosing you SON. I hope and pray that you have found your paradise, the one you've been trying to find your whole life. Chasing that dragon, nipping at it's tail ever so close so many times. You have caught your dragon now what do we do. NOW WHAT DO WE DO SON!!! I LOVE YOU BC.....
