“ Kay you will always remain in my heart. I was so blessed to have spent the last few days with you in your journey home to the lord. You have always been like a second mom and always looked after me and my brother in your best way possible just as our mother would. Its sad i will no longer be able to just stand in the porch and talk to you about absolutely nothing but having a fun time laughing and joking just catching up on old news and new news you will forever be missed but most importantly loved! I love you moma Kay fly high!

“ Will always be able to hear her innocent laugh in my mind. Always open hearted but never afraid to speak her mind. A anytime companion...day or night. Always ready to spark a conversation with anyone. My fondest memories will always be centered around her music that she loved so dearly she didnt care how loud it was. Danced and song like nobody was watching...a true hippie to the deepest part of her soul. I remember her getting all done up..make up and hair just for herself even when she had no where to go. Door and arms always open to any stray...people included. Could whip up a meal out of nothing much that always hit the spot. Truly blessed to have such a wonderful woman influence my life..it will not be the same without her welcoming hugs and good sense of humor.
