“ I didn't know Steve that we'll but seemed to be a decent person. I was friends with Shannon and that's how I came to know him. I'm praying for his children and mother and sister. May the Lord comfort you all during this extremely hard time.

“ Dear Slagle Family,

I wish to express my sincere condolences on the unexpected death of your son, brother, father and papa, Steve Slagle.

My staff and I were honored to have Steve join our team for approximately a year. We all found him to be a hard worker and a man of his word, always with a smile on his face and with a humorous joke to tell. He often spoke of his family, his daughters and his pride of being a grandfather, while sharing with us pictures of his grandchildren.

He left suddenly one day, after receiving a phone call and needing to hurry home to North Carolina, due to his mother's health. We always hoped that we would see him again in Colorado, but it seems that God had another plan for him. Knowing now what ultimately happened, we're happy that he spent the last part of his life back home and with his family.

May God comfort you all during this time and in the months ahead.

Respectfully,
